Founded in 2003 by Stewart Boedecker and Athena Pappas, Boedecker Cellars has built a reputation for crafting age-worthy wines from their urban winery in the heart of Portland.

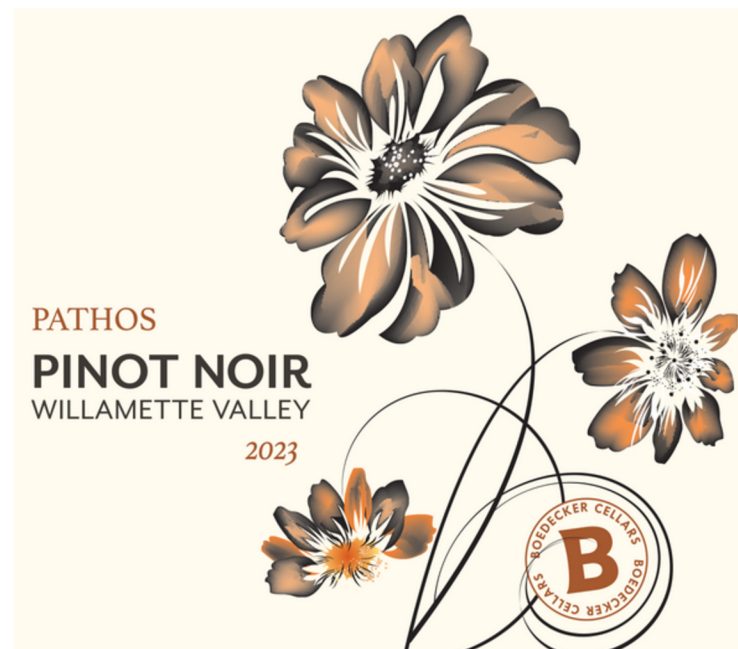

“... [Stewart and Athena have] built a solid track record for sturdy, age-worthy wines that are always released on the late side, which is a big plus for impatient consumers.”

— Josh Reynolds, Vinous

Tasting Notes

Deep black cherry, red plum, and raspberry lead from entry through the midpalate. Blackcap raspberry and currants follow, layered with a fine, lingering note of toasty oak on the long finish.

Winemakers: Stewart Boedecker & Athena Pappas

The Makeup

- 20% Chehalem Mountain Vineyard (Chehalem Mountain AVA) – Calera & Mount Eden clones
- 10% Cherry Grove Vineyard (Tualatin Hills AVA) – Pommard
- 70% Hirschy Vineyard (Yamhill-Carlton AVA) – Dijon 667, 777, & Wadenswil clone

The Methodology

Crafted with organic principles from vineyard to bottle. Hand-sorted fruit was 100% destemmed and fermented in small, open-top 1.5-ton fermenters. The wine aged for 16 months in a mix of new and seasoned French oak, with lees stirred during the first 9 months of élevage. Minimal effective SO₂ was used throughout.
